This is what we need:

- Books – babies, children, teenagers, adults, text books, comics, references such as gardening, cooking, self-help, DIY, language, travel, dictionaries, bibles (but no preaching books or anti-religion books please). We also cannot take any books that are only relevant to English people (e.g. biographies, English landscape) and that are too old or damaged.
- Toys – any kind. The more the better. If you have some baby toys, early learning toys and ride along toys those would be really handy.
- Games – board games, sports equipment.
- Jigsaws – for any ages, but the younger ones the better.
- Blocks, bricks, Legos and any other building type activity (no electrics please)
- Dolls – we never get enough dolls for the little girls.
- Lever arch files and other filing boxes etc.
- Stationary – papers, paper clips, pens, scissors, hole punchers and anything else that office (our library) might need.
- Arts and crafts material – cards, glitter, glue, pens, pencils, stickers, feathers, pipe cleaners and on and on and on.
- Painting equipment – brushes, rollers.
- Tools – all useable tools including small electrical.
- Glasses, microscopes, magnifying glasses, and binoculars – we give those to the large albino community.
- Laptops – functional and fairly new please.
